DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed 5/30/2006 is acknowledged by the examiner. However, all the references in the information disclosure statement filed 5/2/2006 have been crossed out due to the fact they are duplicate to those on the IDS filed 5/30/2006.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 12 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Pat. No. 5,452,738 (Borland et al.). Borland et al. discloses a valve device in a gas tank comprising a solenoid valve 38), a gas tank (12) a movable core (40), a fixed core (44), a coil (48), a valve element (42), a valve body (22, portion carrying element 48), a flow passage (26, 24), a mouth hole (within element 32), a valve seat (36), a storage hole (within element 22), a discharge passage (84), a lead (74), an insertion hole (surrounding element 40), a retention ring (surrounding element 48), and a resilient member (46).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 8-10 and 13-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Pat. No. 5,452,738 (Borland et al.) in view of U.S. Pat. No. 5,809,977 (Krimmer et al.). Borland et al. discloses a valve device in a gas tank comprising a solenoid valve 38), a gas tank (12) a movable core (40), a fixed core (44), a coil (48), a valve element (42), a valve body (22, portion carrying element 48), a flow passage (26, 24) along the periphery, an opening (surrounding element 26), a mouth hole (within element 32), a valve seat (36), a storage hole (within element 22), a discharge passage (84), a lead (74), an insertion hole (surrounding element 40), a retention ring (surrounding element 48), and a resilient member (46) but lacks a cap member having a filter. Krimmer et al. teach a solenoid assembly comprising a cap member (4) and a filter (40). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the valve device of Borland et al. by adding a cap and a filter as taught by Krimmer et al. in order to filter the gas as it enters the valve.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 11, 16, and 21 are allowed.

7. Claims 18-20 and 22 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

U.S. Pat. No. 5,458,151 (Wass) discloses a solenoid valve in a gas tank.

U.S. Pat. No. 4,543,983 (Pauliukonis) discloses a solenoid valve having a filter.
